Read here the impressive story of Mayotte, my maternal grandmother, whose stay on this earth was almost 107 years long! Although debilitating diseases tied to old age were and still are claiming lives, Mayotte enjoyed a disease free life up until her death on June 29th 2010. Three things you will find out about Mayotte that will definitely amaze you: 1-It is common knowledge that drinking plenty of water is essential to enjoy excellent health. However, during the greater part of her life, my grandmother has used this precious liquid with downright astounding parsimony. 2-Pneumonia, more often than not, is fatal for a very old person. However, Mayotte, when she was 103 years old, was able to survive the particularly severe attacks of this disease. 3-My grandmother had a notorious allergy to all sorts of drugs. A single aspirin was able to plunge her into an unfortunate state of nervousness and hallucinations. Mayottes story is exciting and entertaining. In my capacity as her grandson, I have described this amazing Centenarian with a wealth of interesting details and I have not omitted any of the original precepts and peculiar quirks of this exceptional woman.
