

The Hiding Place

The Hiding Place is a 1971 book on the life of Corrie ten Boom, written by ten Boom together with John and Elizabeth Sherrill. The idea of a book on ten Booms life began as John and Elizabeth Sherrill were doing research for the book Gods Smuggler, about ten Booms fellow Dutchman, Brother Andrew. Corrie ten Boom was already in her mid-seventies when the Sherrills first heard about her. She was one of Brother Andrews favorite traveling companions and many of his recollections were about her. In the preface to the book, the Sherrills recount: ...his [Brother Andrews] fascinating stories about her in Vietnam, where she had earned that most honorable title Double-old Grandmother - and in a dozen other Communist countries - came to mind so often that we finally had to hold up her hands to stop his flow of reminiscence. We could never fit her into the book, we said. She sounds like a book in herself. Its the sort of thing you say. Not meaning anything. It was later made into a film of the same name, along with a comic book adaptation.
