

Cigar Box Ukulele: Master Craftsmanship Meets Commodity Materials

Why would a master luthier like Sam Kamaka, Jr. build a dozen ukuleles from old cigar boxes? Was it for serious experimentation, personal amusement, or a little of both? Following One Mans Trash: A History of the Cigar Box Guitar, William J Jehle searches for answers and shares his experience while expanding an intriguing chapter in the history of the cigar box guitar. A full-size drawing and complete step-by-step recreation of one of the original 12 cigar box ukuleles crafted by Sam Kamaka, Jr. illustrate what happens when master craftsmanship meets commodity materials.
