

Motive in Shadow (Jesse Falkenstein)

The Manning Company is a big business, but although it was headed by Claire Manning, the founders widow, before her death, her son John had been running the firm for many years and was the undisputed successor. So why did Claire leave almost everything to her third cousin, whom no one associated with the firm has ever heard of? Enter Jesse Falkenstein, who is launched into an investigation of Claire Mannings past - and a litany of treachery, fraud, blackmail, abortion, impersonation and sudden death.
